Increasing diseases

It is often considered that treatment of diseases like cancer, heart diseases, spinal cord injuries, stroke and head injury is impossible

A woman with her hair in a bun, wearing a light blue sleeveless top and skirt, sits at a desk. She has a distressed expression, resting her head on her hand. In front of her is a laptop, a white mug, and a pair of glasses. The background shows a bright window with white frames.

Whenever people hear about such diseases, they get tensed that there is no solution now

STEM CELL THERAPY

Now it is possible to treat such incurable diseases and this technique is
Stem cell therapy

In the modern age,
"Stem Cell" is the world's number one discovery

Stem cells represent an exciting area in medicine because of their potential to regenerate and repair damaged tissue. Some current therapies, such as bone marrow transplantation, already make use of stem cells and their potential for regeneration of damaged tissues.

Cells becoming weaker

Nowadays, every person's cell has become weak due to increasing pollution, adulterated food, fruits and vegetables, harmful chemicals.

Those who look healthy outside, their cells have become weak too.

Stem Cells

Most of the cells in our body lose function with age. Everyone has special cells called adult stem cells which are needed to rejuvenate damaged and old tissues, but adult stem cells themselves are also aging.

Stem Cells

Stem cells are building blocks that play important roles in cellular renewal and regeneration, but they become less potent over time.

Plant stem cells serve as the origin of plant vitality, as they maintain themselves while providing a steady supply of precursor cells to form differentiated tissues and organs in plants. In some long-lived plants, such as trees, plant stem cells remain active over hundreds or even thousands of years, revealing the exquisite precision in the underlying control of proliferation, self-renewal and differentiation.

Plant Stem Cells

Plant Stem cells are “unprogrammed cells” and “universal cells” that can differentiate into cells with specific functions. Regenerative therapies are used to stimulate healing and might be used in the future to treat various kinds of diseases. Regenerative medicine will result in an extended healthy life span. A fresh apple is a symbol for beautiful skin. Hair greying for example could be shown to result from the fact that the melanocyte stem cells in the hair follicle have died off.

Plant Stem Cells

Plant stem cells are characterized by two distinctive properties, which are:

- the ability to create all differentiated cell types and
- the ability to self-renew such that the number of stem cells is maintained.

Plant stem cells never undergo aging process but immortally give rise to new specialized and unspecialized cells, and they have the potential to grow into any organ, tissue, or cell in the body. Thus they are totipotent cells equipped with regenerative powers that facilitate plant growth and production of new organs throughout lifetime

Fruit and Plant Cells

Fruits and plants are sources of "universal cells" that can increase the longevity of our skin's stem cells, renew dormant cells, repair damage, and regenerate healthy cells. They also defend against harmful ultraviolet, oxidative, and environmental stresses.

A novel plant cell culture technology developed

KEVA

Our team of Scientists & Researchers developed a novel plant cell culture technology to extract out stem cells from rare plants and fruits.
